

COMPARE AND CONTRAST

FROG
VS.
TOAD

FROG VS. TOAD

Frogs have long powerful legs for jumping. Their skin is moist and smooth and they like to live near water. They lay their eggs in clusters. They make a croaking noise. They enjoy eating insects and are called amphibians.

Toads have short legs for walking or hopping. Their skin is dry and bumpy and they like to live in dry places. They lay eggs in long chains. They make a croaking noise. They like to eat insects and are called amphibians.

COMPARE AND CONTRAST

Frog ONLY

Toad ONLY

BOTH

Name _____ Date _____

Frog and Toad cut and paste

| True about Frogs only | True about both | True about Toads only |
|-----------------------|-----------------|-----------------------|
| | | |

| | | |
|-------------------------------------|---|--|
| have long powerful legs for jumping | The young have gills and the adults have lungs. | have short legs for walking or hopping |
| like to live near water | like to eat insects | lay eggs |
| make a croaking noise | are called amphibians | Their skin is moist and smooth. |
| A group of them is called an army. | A group of them is called a knot. | lay their eggs in clusters |
| like to live in dry places | Their skin is dry and bumpy. | lay eggs in long chains |